

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Bedford, New Hampshire

Bedford is home to roosting eagles and shopping malls; antique farmhouses and modern office buildings; exclusive residential neighborhoods and first class office parks. It is just five miles from the commercial and cultural resources in downtown Manchester, yet a single turn down a side road in Bedford can transport you to classic New England countryside.

Through careful planning, Bedford has been able to balance residential and commercial needs to offer a wonderful combination of rural character and urban convenience. The town's great location, convenient shopping and small town flavor has made Bedford one of New Hampshire's most sought-after residential communities. Its per capita income consistently ranks among the top in the state.

Bedford residents enjoy a wonderful library, acres of conservation land, and superior recreational facilities, including athletic fields, tennis courts, a sledding hill and cross-country ski trails. The town's active Parks and Recreation Department offers a wide range of programs and classes for all ages.

Manchester's museums, theater, and nightlife are just over the border from Bedford. Residents who like roam farther afield are just one hour from Boston, an hour from New Hampshire's lakes and mountains, and less than an hour from seacoast beaches and boating.
